Achievement Day At High School Proves Best Ever

You all know the old saying "money isn't everything but it certainly helps you cry a lot easier," well, "achievement" isn't everything but it certainly helps to make success easier. Achievement Day at the high school was a success. Heartiest congratulations go to Mrs. M. H. Kimmitt and Mr. Wm. Blore, and to all the students in Grades 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 who worked so diligently to give the 300 parents and interested spectators, a delightful Friday afternoon.

At two o'clock sharp, the Principal Mr. E. T. Wiggins, welcomed the guests, and with the singing of O Canada, the "Serenade of Fashions" for 1955 was off to a good start. Commentators for the afternoon were Miss Mildred Neufeld and Miss Dorothy MacDonald. To music supplied by Miss Gloria Schumaker and Miss Lydia Neufeld, the Grade Seven Girls whirled onto the stage in summer cotton-blouses, skirts, jumpers, pyjamas, ranging from 75 cents to $3.50. Some were from commercial patterns and some were designed by the girls themselves.

Porter Rabbit in person, carried by one student in a pretty turquoise outfit, delighted the younger fry. "I Love You" painted on another pretty skirt, received warm applause. The Grade Eight students showed a greater variety of materials, and their cost ran from $1 to $7.50. Crocheted hats and bags, designed by the students, completed some costumes. Chins, chose similar dresses and skirts proudly displayed "Big Sister and Little Sister" outfits. The Grade Nines were not quite so easy on "Fancy pockets" and skirts, ranging from $2 to $3, but again the materials were more varied and the trimmings more elaborate. French cuffs and fancy pockets were popular. Festive, and colorful, Square Skirts were a happy choice of this group. Grades 10 and 11 completed the Fashion Show with dresses and suits of nylons and orlons reaching as high as $10. But many could not be purchased ready.

Two-Ball Foursome Sunday Revealed Champs & Chumps

The weather on Sunday being most suitable for golf, the mixed two-ball foursome tournament was what they call an unqualified success. Thirteen foursomes took part in the first tournament of the late season. It was unfortunate that the draw committee was not notified of the cancellation of two games which left some players out of the competition.

Entrance fees received were $5.55 with free from some couples yet to come. These fees can be paid to Mrs. G. Thring.

Receipts from the tea and sale of doughnuts were $4.70, which almost paid the expenses.

Competition was close, with Mrs. Alf Allen being undisputed winners with a 48 score card. Dr. and Mrs. C. T. McNielie tied with Miss Vivian Callhous and Mr. Fred Evans for second place with scores of 51.

(Note from one of those who did not intend to play, but did!) We feel it was one of the more interesting days we have spent on the local course, whether playing or kibitzing; the course to one who may claim to be a novice, was in excellent shape; there were good shots and bad ones (my partner made most of the bad ones); there were serious players and those who didn't seem to be, but they were; in all it was a very fine team effort and our opinion is that it should be repeated, but soon!

Ladies' day at the golf course on May 26 was well attended with 11 players present. The ladies will meet as usual on June 2 at 2 p.m. Players unable to meet these times may arrange their games for Wednesday or Thursday night, but they must turn in their cards to Mrs. J. Currie by Thursday evening.

To start the ringer competition on Thursday it will be most pars for the nine holes.

Election Highlights!

Shown above is Archie Boyce, nationally-known auctioneer, who last week received the Liberal nomination for Olds constituency, for the forthcoming provincial election. As yet no other candidates have been nominated for that riding.

Policy Change?

Following is a copy of a letter received by different interested parties in this area, concerning the inlet to Didsbury from the main No. 2 highway. One organization in particular has records on hand stating that it was not the policy of the government to do any more than they have already done in this respect. Your guess is as good as ours as to whether this sudden change in policy will bear any fruit.

Getting back to the latest letter we quote:

"The Minister of Highways announced from his office today that it was the policy of the Provincial Government to build asphalt-topped approach roads from the network of main through highways to towns within easy access to the highways."

Last year, when the construction of the divided four-lane highway between Bowden and Crossfield was approved, representations were made by the Towns of Olds, Carleton Place and Didsbury, and by Mr. Fred Niddie, M.L.A., and Mr. Howard Hammel, M.L.A., for asphalt-topped connections. The matter was taken under advisement and a policy has now been approved to provide such approach roads. This will also apply to the Towns of High River and Nanton. If the new road is proceeded with, heretofore, the approach roads were constructed generally speaking, by the local authority on a 75-25 basis, the Province paying the 75%.

The new policy will insure good approach roads to the various towns close to the main through highway network, and will provide ready access to all who want to do their business at those centres. Approach roads approved will be built by the Department of Highways."

CONTROL THE SPRUCE SAWFLY

The yellow-headed spruce sawfly is a serious pest of the spruce trees in many parts of Alberta. In the last two years considerable damage was done to shelterbelts and hedgerows in the Didsbury, Olds, and Hamtman districts.

The attack of the spruce by the sawfly larvae will cause the loss of many needles. If defoliation is complete it will result in probable death to the trees. Careful and periodic inspection of the trees should be made to detect the pest and, if found, suitable action taken to prevent damage. One should look for the sawfly larvae (worms) shortly after the bud caps have fallen, usually around the middle of June.

Their first appearance is on the warmer south side of trees. The worms are pale green in color, but the reddish-brown heads aid in spotting them. To prevent damage, control measures must be started as soon as the worms appear. These worms work rapidly and in the course of only a few days they can almost completely defoliate large trees if the infestation is severe.

Since we had considerable experience with these pests last year we would like to urge everyone who has spruce grove on their place to keep a close check on these trees from now on during the summer. They can do their destructive work anywhere from June to August.

We found last year that ALDRIN mixed with water and sprayed on the trees is very effective in killing the worms. We have this poison at the Municipal office in Didsbury. If you need some get in touch with us and we will furnish directions on how to use the poison safely and save your trees from destruction.

Mrs. Smith nodded violently through her tears. A look of deep remorse crossed Mr. Smith's face. "Ye Gods," he murmured, "to think how I've underestimated that woman!"

Alberta 50 Years Old; The Roads Age With Us

Alberta is 50 years old this year. So is the policy of the Alberta Government with regard to the assistance given for roads within the boundaries of Alberta's Towns and Villages. Everything else has changed a lot in 50 years. In the early days Town and Village streets did not present a very serious problem. The horse and wagon did not require much and most heavy freight came in by railway. The municipality could then look after its roads with assistance.

The present day Town and Village Council has to provide roads suitable for heavy truck traffic, which demands a far better all weather road than was formerly required. Fleets of School Buses use their roads daily; express and mail now come in by truck instead of by railway; large quantities of fuel, including coal, oil and propane, are transported and delivered by truck instead of, as in the past, being brought in by railway. Heavy industrial equipment, weighing many tons, is now transported by truck and it is a common thing to see on the street of our towns and villages huge trucks that can carry as much as a railroad box-car. And yet the Councils of our Towns and Villages are left by the Provincial Government, which incidentally gets all the revenue for licenses and gasoline tax from these trucks, to cope with the problem unassisted.

Experience has shown that only hard surface roads with a good solid base can stand up to this kind of traffic. Experience has also shown that such roads are extremely expensive and entirely beyond reach of a small community from its own resources. Experience would indicate that if we are ever to have suitable roads in our smaller communities they will require substantial assistance from the Senior Governments, which they are not getting. It is true that the municipalities are now getting a percentage of the gasoline tax but in most cases this is being used to off-set the rising costs of education and to keep the mill-rate down to where the tax-payer can pay. It is not so marked for or being used on road construction.

There is no reason why the Towns and Villages should not receive road construction and maintenance grants similar to those now being given to the rural municipalities. If this were the case the typical rough and dusty small town street might soon become obsolete. Until it is done these streets will remain a reminder of at least one Government policy that is as old as the Province.

BARLEY CONTEST FOR 1955 ANNOUNCED

The National Barley Contest started by the brewing and malting industries in 1946 will be continued in 1955. It was decided that continuation of the contest was the best of all mutually projects proposed for stimulating improvement in barley standards, the main objective of the sponsors when the project was launched.

From standpoint of entries the 1954 competition promised to be one of the best of the series. It turned out one of the worst. Weather-beaten and rust-damaged crops were so deteriorated in yield and grade that only about 15 per cent of contestants were able to ship. Although particularly disastrous for Alberta, growers from the Peace River area of the province took the major awards.

As was the case last year only Alberta and Manitoba will be in the 1955 competition. To meet special conditions in Alberta and the Peace River, contestants from that province may make their formal entry at the time of shipping it. Entry forms are obtainable from elevator agents or provincial agriculture representatives.

Alberta contestants planning to enter, even though not required to make their entry until time of shipping, could facilitate work of those in charge of the contest by giving as much advance notice as possible. This may be sent to the Barley Improvement Institute, 206 Grain Exchange Bldg., Winnipeg.

With this exception rules for the 1955 contest are identical with those of 1954. The entry requirement remains a carload lot, a minimum of 1,000 bushels.

For purposes of the contest the province will be divided into two regions, with seven cash prizes in each on the same scale as last year. The provincial and interprovincial prizes will also be the same as in 1954.

RUGBY INSTITUTE REGULAR MEETING

The May meeting of Rugby Women's Institute was held on Wed. May 4 at the home of Mrs. Alex Blain with fourteen members and two visitors present. Roll call was answered by giving the name of a book read recently.

Winner in the biscuit contest was Mrs. Vipond. These were judged by Mrs. Ford, aided by Mrs. Armstrong. Mrs. Vipond was nominated delegate to attend Edmonton convention. Mrs. Alex Blain will also attend.

Mrs. D. Hoesgood gave as her paper on Education, "My Family Is Bringing Me Up."

The June meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Vipond on Tuesday June 7th so as not to conflict with convention in Edmonton.

Tea money amounted to $1.56 and the tea draw was won by Mrs. Hoesgood.

SERIOUS TROUBLE

A man-about-town was in serious trouble and called up his lawyer. "It's a dirty trick," he screamed into the phone, "a dirty trick."

The lawyer soothed him with "calm down, calm down, and tell me what's the trouble?"

"The girl's husband has made a horrible mistake," screamed the man. "He named me as correspondent in a divorce suit, and I can't even write!"

Carling's Comes To Alberta

Carling's Black Label product will be on the market in Alberta before the end of July, said S. F. Heard, President of Red Deer Brewing Co. Ltd., following an extraordinary general meeting of the shareholders held in the Palliser Hotel, on May 25th.

It was unanimously agreed at the meeting that the name of the company should be changed to The Carling Breweries (Alberta) Limited. The shareholders welcomed the opportunity this given their company to produce the Red Deer plant the beer which has the fastest growing sales in Canada. Mr. Adam Carson, the company's brewmaster, who served Carling's in Ontario in a similar capacity for several years, will be directly responsible for production.

To further guarantee the exact quality of Carling's Black Label product, arrangements have been made with the Carling Breweries Limited to have their Production Manager of Brewing, Mr. Stan Parker, work in conjunction with the brewing staff of The Carling Breweries (Alberta) Limited. Mr. Parker's main responsibilities with The Carling Breweries Limited are control of quality and co-ordination of production of their numerous plants to produce a uniform product throughout Canada. It is largely due to his efforts that such unparalleled public acceptance has been attained in this country, England and the United States. It is planned that Mr. Parker will work very closely with Mr. Carson in Red Deer.

The June meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Vipond on Tuesday June 7th so as not to conflict with convention in Edmonton.

Tea money amounted to $1.56 and the tea draw was won by Mrs. Hoesgood.

Advertising Shows The Way

Advertising is often very essence of democracy. An election goes on every minute of the business day across the counters of hundreds of thousands of stores and shops where the customers state their preferences, and determine which manufacturer and which product shall be the leader today, and which shall lead tomorrow. In this fair but fierce competition for public preference every manufacturer must strive through continuous research to improve his product. Incidentally, what little advertising there is under totalitarianism is rigidly controlled, and understandably so. It is dangerous to let a captive people choose freely their food, their clothing, their tools or their homes; such freedom can too easily expand to the ultimate goal of choosing their leaders and their way of life.

Advertising has its follies, and its faults. To quote Mr. Calkins again: "Advertising was once looked upon with justifiable suspicion. Patent-medicine people and out-and-out swindlers owed their existence to it. Publishers began to see that they were fouling their own nests in accepting business that destroyed the confidence that is the lifeblood of business. Edward Bok, editor of the 'Ladies Home Journal,' launched a crusade that stirred the patent-medicine world to its depth. The magazine cleaned house. They were followed by the newspapers."

Too many printed advertisements still make exaggerated claims. Too many still insult the sensitive intelligence and offend good taste. Too many radio and TV commercials are too long and too loud.

People like advertising, want it, depend on it for information and, if it were abolished, the demand for its return would be overwhelming for 11 days the fall of 1952 most of the newspapers of New York City were out of business because of a strike. Department store sales dropped as much as 25 percent. Job applications fell; the sale of used cars sagged. Even funeral attendance dropped because no death notices could be run. On the day the strike ended, a survey organization asked people: "What did you miss most in not having your newspaper?" Forty-two percent answered "The advertisements."

Clients know too that advertising brings a bonus in better morale of employees who take pride in working for a well-known and widely respected company and do a better job because of it. Today's advertiser asks the agency not "How little can you get along with?" but "How much can we profitably spend?"

Another impressive development has been the widespread recognition of the need for better "public relations." There is today no major industry that is not constantly urging its advertising agency to make fresh studies of the public it likes or dislikes. Every big industry is publicly owned, and knows that in a democracy it is the people who will finally decide who shall be in business, and under what conditions.

More Book Reading

After reading such books as "Why Johnny Can't Read" and "So Little for the Mind" it is a pleasant shock to learn from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics that public library circulation in Canada increased 22% in two years.

Between 1951 and 1953, the number of volumes owned by libraries rose 11%, from 7.5 million to 8.4 million. In the same period, the number of borrowers rose from 1.4 million to 1.7 million. During the two years, the population rose 5.6%; but the book turnover increased, as mentioned, by 22%.

COMPETITION IS TOUGH !

Competition is tough in the oil business, too.

While we believe Imperial is the best oil company in Canada, it's far from the only one. We're beset on all sides by healthy competitors.

From the Maritimes to British Columbia more than 240 companies are competing in the search for crude oil.

In 45 refineries from Halifax to Vancouver, 24 companies refine this crude oil into hundreds of useful oil products.

In all of Canada, scores of marketing companies compete for the motorist's and home owner's dollar.

In all its operations from coast to coast, Imperial Oil faces competition which is vigorous and resourceful, benefiting both the industry and the consumer.

IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED*DISTRICT NEWS*Through The Study Window

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG

A friend of mine claims that there are two types of people, owls and larks. "The distinction lies between their habits of sleep. Those who go to bed early and rise early are of course the larks. His own personal habits are very definitely owlish."

Early rising is not one of the popular habits of mankind with the advent of electricity, in all probability the tendency has been for people to stay up later, and rise correspondingly. "Man goeth to his work and to his labour until the evening," and in the evening he goeth unto the evening baseball game or watches TV.

We live in a day when people are constantly endeavoring to arrange their time to provide more activities other than their own gainful occupation. Half-holidays on Wednesday have been introduced and now the trend is to have longer weekends. Queen Victoria's birthday now falls on a long-weekend.

Has all this rearranging of holidays resulted in holy-days? Not obviously. Sabbath observance, which is a holy-day, has for many become simply a part of a holiday, and exclusively devoted to recreation. The great opportunities and needs for reformation and regeneration, made possible by Sabbath observance, rank often below the imperious demands for recreation.

Perhaps the tension of modern living has lead people to feel that they need something other than their work to get their mind off things. Certainly I am not advocating a return to a 60 hour work week. But it is passing strange that in a world where there are so many new labour-saving devices, people could and do complain of not having time to do things they want to do. Are we busier than ever, or have we just plain lost our appreciation of the real value of time, and more particularly of the time spent in worship. Those of us who believe in worship are sometimes very negative as our attitude towards those who have never discovered the real worth of a worshipful observance of the Sabbath day. But it seems to me that those who perhaps regard us as spoil-sports could very well take time out on a weekend in a serious attempt to find out for themselves why it is that some people really do benefit from worship on the Lord's day.

M.V.B.C. NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Mr. Edward Widmark who is at home in Lima, Ohio, has been on the sick list since leaving Didsbury. We are hoping that he will soon gain his health and be able to return to his work here.

Miss Gladys Eby visited in Red Deer on Friday. She attended the commencement exercises and reception at Canadian Nazarene College with President and Mrs. Arnold Airhart.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eby left for Ontario on Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stauffer. They will be visiting in Ontario, with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Suder in Hamilton, and then motor back through the States visiting at various points on their way. Marilyn is staying with her aunt and uncle in Acadia Valley, and Grace and Glenn are with relatives here.

Rev. and Mrs. Taylor returned from their trip east where Mr. Taylor took part in the Commencement exercises of Emmanuel Bible College, Kitchener, delivered the address of that occasion. They are leaving for Washington State this week where Mr. Taylor will be engaged in revival work at Roy, Washington. Later in the month they will have meetings in Galahad.

A large number of annual flowering plants have been given to the College by friends in Calgary. These have been planted in the plots around the school, and we hope to have a nice display of flowers during the summer months. We are hoping that some day we will have only perennials in these plots to save gardening work during the spring. There may be those of our friends who have suitable roots and bulbs for fall planting. Don't throw them away but contact us, for we would be glad to have them.

DESERVING EDITORS

Some readers will agree that editors deserve the fate told in this little verse from the Trail-R-News, and reprinted in the N.Y. Press Association Bulletin:

An editor knocked at the Pearly Gates

His face was scarred and cold; He stood before the man of fate For admission to the fold.

"What have you done?" St. Peter asked.

"To gain admission here?"

"I've been an editor, sir," he said

"For many and many a year."

The Pearly Gate swung open wide

St. Peter touched the bell.

"Come in," he said, "and choose your harp,

"You've had your share of hell."

Thousands Buying On Instalment Plan

Hundreds of thousands of people of modest means are today becoming part owners of industry by purchasing stocks as they purchase automobiles, refrigerators and TV sets — on the instalment plan.

This "spread of grass-roots capitalism," says the June Reader's Digest, is largely due to G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange. Mr. Funston reasoned that the way to attract the millions of small investors whose savings must provide the industrial capital of the future was to let them buy stocks on a pay-as-you-go basis. Accordingly, in January 1929, the Exchange launched its Monthly Investment Plan, conveniently called the MIP.

Under MIP a truck driver, a store clerk, a factory worker or a school teacher who may once have thought of Wall Street as a place where bulls and bears fleece the public, can now become a capitalist himself. He sets aside for the purchase of stock a sum which can be as little as $40 every three months, the minimum agreement of MIP.

Shares are bought on not on margin. The man or woman who can invest $100 a month, for example, can buy three and a fraction shares of a stock selling at 30, and pay the broker's commission of $6.

New Industry -- New Growth

It's quite a prize when a town gets new manufacturing industry or when one already established branches out, commencing the financial Post. Immediately there follows a chain reaction which brings growth and financial power far beyond the direct benefit of the wages added to the local payroll.

Here is what will follow when 100 new employees in manufacturing have been added to the working force of a typical Ontario industrial town:

Industrial output will increase by almost a million dollars a year, industrial purchasing by almost half a million. Nearly three millions will be added to municipal taxable assessment. $100,000 more annually paid in corporation taxes, and $970,000 in personal taxes. Three new retail outlets will open in the town and total retail business will be up $400,000. Finally there will be added 369 new cars, 135 additional jobs and 162 new households.

No wonder, comments The Post, there is such a scramble among municipalities for new industry.

GIBRALTER MENACED

We have a high regard for the Prudential Insurance Company of America. But, writes Napier Moore in The Financial Post, we're just a little afraid that if Prudential continues to open new offices, Britain's Mediterranean bastion, Gibraltar, is going to disappear.

In December, 1930, when Prudential opened its new Canadian head office in Toronto's Bank of Nova Scotia building, it unveiled in the lobby a 2-ton slab of Gibraltar's rock. It had an 8-ton chunk on display that year at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Recently in Jacksonville, Florida, Prudential opened another new office: a 22-story marble and granite edifice. And there, by golly, another 700 lb. segment of the Rock was unveiled.

TESTED CLIMATE

Texas who was visiting New England had boasted about the healthy Texas climate, and as proof mentioned his father, who was 75, still rode horseback. One of his listeners allowed that that was pretty good but couldn't match a neighboring Yankee the same age who had glowed ten hours every day the past week except Saturday afternoon, when he had to go to his father's wedding.

"How old was his father?" asked the Texan.

"Ninety-nine."

"Want to? He HAD to?"

— The Reader's Digest

Stopping This Leak Store Sales Up

Department store sales were up 26.5% in week ended May 7, compared with same week in 1934, reports The Financial Post. All areas showed substantial gains, ranging from Saskatchewan's 15.1% to Manitoba's 46.6%. For April, increase was 4.4% (increase of 9.4% in British Columbia, 6.3% in Quebec, 5.7% in Ontario, 1.8% in Manitoba, and decreases of 3.3% in Saskatchewan and 1.4% in Atlantic provinces).

In the 90 years between 1851 and 1941 some six and a quarter million people came into Canada while nearly six millions left for the United States. Little wonder, comments The Financial Post that our population was slow in building up. But with the great boom in industrialization in this country, and all the opportunities that have opened up, this leak is being gradually plugged.

We are still losing each year too many people, and particularly highly trained young people, looking for wider opportunity and bigger money south of the border. But other Canadians are coming home from the U.S. and more and more Americans are coming to Canada.

Wheat Selling Troubles

Mr. Howe, seems to have lost some of his optimism about government wheat marketing, states The Financial Post. In Parliament he painted a gloomy picture. He offered little hope of clearing Canada's overloaded storage before the new crop starts rolling.

Growing wheat is only one part of Canada's job. We must also sell it. And we have not been selling it nearly as fast as we have been growing it.

Long before this every possible salesman should have been encouraged to get on the job. Instead we have persisted in maintaining an absolute government monopoly in marketing.

If Parliament lacks the nerve to face up to the situation, and we hope that Walter Gordon's economic commission will be permitted to investigate and prescribe promptly. The health of a major industry is involved.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The way to healthier, happier living through understanding of God as the only real creative power will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the only cause and creator" includes the account of Christ Jesus' healing of the centurion's servant who was "sick of the palsy, grievously tormented" (Matt. 8). Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (231:30): "Man, governed by his Maker, having no other Mind—planted on the Evangelist's statement that 'all things were made by Him (the Word of God); and without Him was not anything made that was made—can triumph over sin, sickness, and death.' The Golden Text is from Acts (4:24): 'Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is.'"

WEDDINGS

COOPER — CAMERON

A beautiful double ring marriage ceremony was solemnized in St.
Paul's United Church, Calgary, on May 20, by Rev. B. D. Littlejohn
when Miss Doris Ella Cameron, youngest daughter of Mrs. M. Cameron of Acadia Valley, and James Riley Cooper, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cooper of Elkton, were united in marriage.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother Mr. Allan Cameron to the strains of the Lo-henaia Wedding March played by Mrs. John A. Howton. The bride was given in marriage by her brother Mr. Allan Cameron.

The bride was a picture of dark-eyed beauty in the traditional white wedding gown with beaded bodice of lace and bouffant skirt of net over satin in waltz length. She wore a finger-tip veil held in place by a tiny cap of white net and seed pearls.
Her only jewellery was a necklace and ear rings of pearl in leaf design, a gift from the groom. Her bou-quet was American beauty roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs.
Doris Graves of Empress, who was beautifully gowned in turquoise blue nylon with flared skirt in waltz length. She wore a tiny cap of white nylon and seed pearls. Her bou-quet was pine and white carnations.

The bridesmaid was Miss Anna Manning of Cornwall, Ontario and Calgary, who wore a beautiful gown of golden nylon with flared skirt in waltz length. She wore a tiny cap of white nylon and seed pearls and her bouquet was yellow and white carnations.

The groom was attended by Mr.
Kenneth Papke and Mr. Keith D.
Cooper.

The groom's cousin Mr. Robert Moore and his brother's Messrs.
Glen and Keith Cooper ushered the guests.

The bride's mother wore a figured white nylon in mauve and blue and her corsage was of lovely yellow Kenish roses.

The groom's mother wore a tan silk with shell pink and brown accessories and her corsage was deep pink roses.

The groom's grandmother, Mrs.
W. H. McGaffin of Didsbury, wore an en-semble of bluish lilac and her corsage was of American Beauty roses.

During the signing of the register,
Mr. George Admusen, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Rose Howton sang
"I'll Walk Beside You." The wedding music was played by Mrs. John Foxton cousin of the groom.

Following the ceremony, a dainty lunch was served in the church reception room. Those serving were the bride's sister, Mrs. Robert Cowan, her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Cim-mott, Mrs. Billie Dick, Miss Julie Loewen, and Mrs. Orr. The bridal table was centered with a beautiful three tiered wedding cake.

Mr. Kenneth Papke gave the toast to the bride to which the bridegroom fittingly replied.

The bride's going away outfit was of charcoal grey with accessories.
After a short honeymoon the happy couple will be "at home" to their many friends in Calgary.

Notes From D.A.

By HOWARD J. FULCHER

Erosion by water is quite noticeable at this time of the year. deposits of silt in low areas, other positive indications are the development of gulleys across fields. These gulleys may be very small and can be crossed with farm machinery. In some cases the wash-outs are too large for this.

In case of large gulleys it is imperative they be filled and seeded to prevent further damage and allow uninterrupted cultivation of the fields. (The procedure will vary with the size, type and contour of the wash-out, generally most can be filled with agriculture machinery.
In these cases work the land into the ditch from either side until the ditch area is a little higher than the area along its sides. This allows for packing and setting the grade the forming of a narrow ditch in the original wash-out. If the channel is over eighteen inches deep any material (logs, roots, stones) put in before filling will help bind the land and lessen danger of a new washout. In construction of the water course develop it wide and flat bottomed rather than a shaped one. When this is completed pack the land until it is quite firm and seed down. Due to the growth of grass being slow, the land has little protection the first year, a seeding of wheat at the same time will help.
After seeding if the grade of the ditch is great cross logs or any other devices placed on surface will slow and spread the water movement and help prevent re-occurrence of the erosion, these can be removed when the grass is fully established.

If the ditch is very large and heavy equipment is needed it is advisable to get the land levels and proper grade established before large expenditures are made.
